WHEN BOO HEARS THAT HER MUM is expecting a little boy, she thinks it's the very worst news in the whole world.

She pictures her brother, all smelly and yucky and terrible, and spends nine months bemoaning her awfully bad luck. Until the big day arrives.

A must-read for soon-to-be big sisters who need a little reassurance about their new brothers.

CARLA KREUSER is an illustrator, graphic designer and Creative Director at The Jupiter Drawing Room, Cape Town. She holds a Masters Degree in Illustration from Stellenbosch University and has participated in several group shows.
